

Join our theater session

Tackling Disparities in Cardiogenic Shock

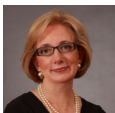

Date: Sunday, October 2, 2022

Location: Industry Expert Theater 1

Time: 12:30 pm - 1:30 pm ET

There are recognized disparities in the care of patients with CVD. This session will focus on assessing biological and socioeconomic determinants of cardiogenic shock risk in vulnerable or overlooked populations with CVD. Strategies to reduce identified inequalities in care delivery, and advanced treatment options to diminish adverse outcome rates in these patients, will be discussed.

Moderator:

Mariell Jessup, MD, FAHA

Chief Science and Medical Officer
American Heart Association

Panelists:

Ersilia DeFilippis
MD, FACC

Advanced Heart Failure &
Transplant Cardiologist,
Columbia University Irving
Medical Center

Albert J. Hicks, III
MD, MPH

Advanced Heart Failure &
Transplant Cardiologist,
University of Maryland
Medical Center

Jerry D. Estep
MD, FACC, FASE

Chairman of Cardiology
Staff, Section of Heart Failure,
Mechanical Circulatory
Support & Transplantation,
Cleveland Clinic Florida

This Industry Expert Theater presentation is not part of the scientific program as planned by the HFSA Program Committee. This event is neither sponsored by nor endorsed by HFSA. This event does not qualify for continuing education credit.

Getinge is a registered trademark of Getinge AB, its subsidiaries, or affiliates in the United States or other countries. Copyright 2022 Getinge AB or its subsidiaries or affiliates. All rights reserved. MCV00109370 REVA

www.getinge.com

GETINGE